

COL - Project:

Personal and social learning in relationship with IT

Quiz

1)

The article deals with - the development of personal and social side in mentally disabled persons.

- A.? The article deals with the development of mentally retarded students' academic, personal and social life
- B.? The article deals with a focus on learning disabilities and IT - General
- C.? The article focuses specifically on personal and social development aimed at handicapped persons
- D.? Focus is on IT development.

2)

The article deals with - the young people learn best by learning component types i.e. one thing at a time and the young show high competence in the image of language and vision into action.

- A.? This article deals NOT learning methods, nor what skills are poorly developed.
- B.? Focus is on the action-oriented
- C.? The article focuses specifically on the development of learning methods
- D.? This article deals specifically forms of learning and active skills for the group of mentally disabled.

3)

The article discusses the following successful results

- a. improved personal development by reducing anxiety and promoting self-esteem.
- b. improved social development by providing a controlled interaction and visibility of social thinking, i.e. to understand the expectations of others and thinking.
- c. improved their own professional skills by learning about their own learning model - responsibility for own learning.

- A.? The article deals with the development of mentally retarded students' academic learning through AFEL
- B.? The article deals with a focus on personal development with reduction of anxiety and self-promotion, but not on social development
- C.? The article focuses specifically on personal and social development, but without effect, assigning some useful methods.
- D.? There are four development areas in the game. the professional, personal and social and cultural

4)

This article deals - pedagogical methods developed in a form with General didactics, Personal Development, Social Development and Trade Union principles.

- A.? The article deals with 4 educational principles similar to general didactics, professional, personal and social development
- B.? The article deals with a focus on learning disabilities and learning - technical terms.
- C.? The article focuses specifically on personal and social development of individual educational ideas
- D.? The focus is actually on the overall cultural life story.

5)

The article - teaching and learning should be defined as: the activity that creates the framework and makes the students - student learning possible. For this you need so special teaching methods.

- A.? The article deals with a definition but not learning principles and didactic forms.
- B.? The article deals with a focus on learning principles based on the definition
- C.? The article focuses only on learning principles from a behavioral paradigm.
- D.? The article focuses only on learning principles from a sequence end - step for step model.

6)

The article deals with 7 learning principles - learning should be made to be functional, not an "as if" instruction - to be as authentic as possible (it is close to reality) - to be organized in relation to clear objectives, involve, and accept the personal relations and interactions-to give students the opportunity to show their personal and social development empathetic-to give students the opportunity to work with their own consciousness and potential methods for improving skills. Example using mediation models (ZNU Zone of proximal Development) - to a particular objective is to see learning in the cultural circumstances, as the formation and identity becomes a realization.

- A.? The article focuses specifically on the present and authentic teaching
- B.? The article deals with a focus on didactic principles - general
- C.? The article focuses specifically on the structural and uses a methodical approach - it works!
- D.? The article focuses specifically on the present and authentic teaching

7)

The article deals with the linguistic terms - to have a knowledge, understanding a text or voice, creating meaning and cognitive and practical skills in a number of specific areas. You have to act and act in relation to a number of aspects of compe which: - analyze text and put yourself in place of others - Understand internal and external plans in a language (consumptive competence) - to express themselves using a technology (productive competence) - to seek information (information competence) - to understand backgrounds and motives, to handle analysis in the communicative situation (critical communicative competence) - to discuss, participate constructively in the social relations and create appropriate rules and structures (demokratisk competence) - Participating directly in collaboration, interaction and networking (network competence) - to report on their own experiences and relationships in the near and outer world (narrative competence).

A.? The article deals with the development of mentally retarded pupils language in relation to their concrete thinking

B.? The article deals with a focus on learning disabilities participation in democratic principles - in relation to their trade skills

C.? The article focuses specifically on personal and social development aimed at the linguistic requirements to handicapped persons

D.? Emphasis is somewhat one-sided emphasis on the narrative skills.

8)

The article deals with requirements for the technological interface that will provide the motivational basis for student growth - all details can be handled in simple text (easy language) - the information image based-that is speaking to all texts and images-creating learning programs with relevance to say. Themes that retarded can see sense - that can be reflected themes e.g. using a mind map systems in text, images and speech recognition .- to develop an education book and a book of job requirements to level the learner can test himself against. And then this might be given guidance on the steps required to reach the desired level. - To develop scripts with social games that can help the learner to achieve enhanced interaction - the development of scripts with focus on personal development that can help the learner to create better self-insight such as what should I put on clothes, so I fit into and for different situations.

A.? The article deals with the development of imaging support for mentally disabled students' academic, personal and social life

B.? The article deals with a focus on the technological and motivational interface compared to retarded and IT

C.? The article focuses specifically on personal and social themes targeting "mindmap".

D.? There are a number of topics, arranged for further use regarding. social gaming

9)

The article provides a pedagogical matrix compared with the constructivist and behaviorist perspective.

A.? The article deals with the development of methods, goals, communication, contextual understanding, search criteria, technical understanding and solving problems in relation to mentally handicapped pupils

B.? The article deals with a focus on learning disabilities and IT - General

C.? The article focuses specifically on personal and social development focused on communication and IT for children

D.? Focus seen in the personal experience of his world.

10)

The article deals with themes that must be an integral part of learning principles: - didactic should include consideration of the close community and the wider community. - The aim of teaching should be clearly described - aim for what it is to be learned - by the hour - Content must be understandable from the students' context - Methods and organization models - social rules for an activity. Below is also the time perspective, be visible - should the job take a long or short time? - Evaluation. There are many forms of evaluation and presentation and should be used and subsequently analyzed to discover the "epilogue".

A.? The article deals with the development of goals and not didactic.

B.? The article deals with a focus on learning disabilities and their specific learning principles

C.? Here is the developmental psychology of the game.

D.? The article focuses specifically on topics that may be part of the learning principles